

The birth of my mother, Ada White, b. 23 October 1903, was never registered, so I cannot produce her birth certificate. She is still living at 115 North Franklin St., Kingston (Caldwell Co.) Missouri 64650. Various census returns (US) copies attached, from 1850 through 1920, show her descent from -

- (1) Her father, William Wesley White b. 1869, whose descent from Captain Moses Averill, is shown in the Averill Genealogy, appropriate pages enclosed.

Her mother, Mary Lydia (Dunn) White b. 1869, who through her mother Emma Adelia (Dodge) Dunn b. 1841, each of whose parents was descended from a Revolutionary War officer, as follows:

- (2) Lydia W. (Pearce) Dodge b. 1802 was grand daughter of Lt. George Wood. Enclosed pages from Pearce and Wood Genealogies show Lydia's descent from him.
- (3) Rev. Dwight Dodge b. 1798 was great grandson of Captain Samuel Ellis. There is no Ellis Genealogy showing Captain Ellis, but Vital Records of Sturbridge MA, pages attached, show the descent of his grand-daughter, Keziah³ Ellis (Jedediah² Samuel¹) from him. Keziaah Ellis married Levi Dodge, and they were Dwight's parents, as shown by the attached page from the Dodge Genealogy.

Dwight and Lydia (Pearce) Dodge migrated from Cayuga Co. NY to Kingston MO in 1846 with their large extended family, including 5-year old daughter Emma, my great-grandmother. I grew up at Kingston hearing about them. As mentioned before, census records pages included show the line of descent.

My descent from my mother is shown by my birth certificate, copy included. Other pedigree charts and family group sheets here show all this information in greater detail.

Travelers in the Pony Express Region are reminded often of the frontier West. More than any other Missouri vacationland, this region is reminiscent of states farther west. Travel in northwest Missouri and you'll find arrow-straight highways crossing open plains and farmland. Small lakes, river hills, parks and forests add diversity to this region, with its proud agrarian tradition.

Begin your travels in St. Joseph — largest city in a region of growing towns and modern industries — and you'll find there's more than terrain tying the area to the frontier West.

Because of its Missouri River location, 19th century St. Joseph was a focal point for steamboat, stage and freight lines. Pioneers headed west across the river into the unknown lands beyond. And, of course, it was here the Pony Express began its brief but historic adventure.

Today, you can visit the red-brick Pony Express Stables from which the first Pony Express rider headed west to Sacramento on April 3, 1860. Now a museum (April through September; $50; free on Sundays), the stables tell the story of westward expansion and the Pony Express.

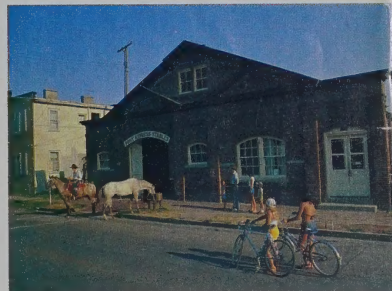

A few blocks north, the Pony Express Memorial Statue has become symbolic of St. Joseph. The life-size bronze of horse and rider is a favorite with photographers.

Not far from the stables, the Patee House Museum preserves the first headquarters of the Pony Express (daily, June-August; weekends, spring/fall; $50). The unique museum, opened as a four-story luxury hotel in 1858, now showcases American life in the 1800s. Among its exhibits are a general store, printing shop, barber shop, Pony Express office and more — including a steam locomotive and mail car. The weathered home where outlaw Jesse James was killed in 1882 has been relocated on the Patee House grounds, as well (season same as Patee House; $50-$1).

Also downtown, the St. Joseph Museum features Indian artifacts from more than 300 tribes, along with other historical and natural history exhibits in a 43-room mansion overlooking the Missouri River (year-round; $50).

Other examples of the city's living history include the Hall Street and Robidoux Row districts, the 1859 Missouri Valley Trust building, and the Buchanan County Courthouse, dating to 1876.

For a break from frontier history, take a look at the 500-plus dolls on display at the Doll Museum (May through September; $1), representing many nations and cultures. Or enjoy American art in a restored mansion at the Albrecht Art Museum (year-round; $1), surrounded by carefully-tended gardens.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOKLET

Each of Missouri's eight vacation regions has its own points of interest map in this booklet, so you can see the region as you're reading about it. In the middle of the booklet is a 12-page fold-out section with a Missouri official highway map.

We also have included extra pages to give you more information on Missouri caves, wineries, hunting, fishing and other subjects.

A WORD ABOUT COSTS

As a planning aid, we've listed approximate information on price ranges, rentals and seasons at Missouri travel attractions. Please remember that these are only approximations. In some cases, the information may change after this booklet is printed. Be sure to check with the area, city or attraction for details. You'll find addresses for area information at the back of the booklet.

INFORMATION CENTERS

As you travel, stop at our six Missouri Information Centers:

- on Interstate 44 near Joplin, about two miles east of the Missouri-Oklahoma state line; (417) 781-4775;
- on Interstate 270 in north St. Louis, just west of the Missouri-Illinois state line, at the Riverview exit; (314) 869-7100;
- in southeast Missouri, on the north-bound lane of Interstate 55 near Marston; (314) 643-2654;
- in northwest Missouri, near Rock Port on the west side of Interstate 29, ½-mile south of its junction with Highway 136; (816) 744-6300;
- at Hannibal, on the east side of Highway 61, two miles south of its junction with Highway 36; (314) 221-1570;

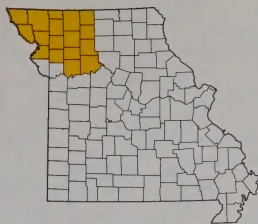

- in Kansas City, on the grounds of the Harry S. Truman Sports Complex, off Interstate 70 at the Blue Ridge Cut-Off; (816) 861-8800.

All centers are open Monday-Saturday through much of the year, with an extended schedule during the summer travel season. You can stop by and get brochures on attractions and facilities statewide, plus first-hand travel advice and free coffee or soft drink.

MORE INFORMATION

For more detailed Missouri information, write the organizations listed at the back of the travel guide or contact: Missouri Division of Tourism, Dept. MT-83, P.O. Box 1055, Jefferson City, Mo. 65102. Phone: (314) 751-4133.

PONY EXPRESS REGION

With all its reminders of the past, St. Joseph is still a city of today, with fine lodging, dining and shopping. As one of Missouri's five largest cities, it offers theatre, parks, sports and all that visitors expect in a growing city of nearly 80,000.

For more details on the city and its attractions, check with the Chamber of Commerce at (816) 232-4461.

There's plenty to enjoy in St. Joseph, but be sure to save time for the rest of northwest Missouri, too. Head north from the city, for example, along the Missouri River and past wind-blown loess bluffs to the Mound City area. Close by is Big Lake State Park, bordering on a 625-acre lake and offering camping (campgrounds in all state parks are open year-round; $4-$7), dining and cabins (April through December; $16-$36). Also here is the Squaw Creek National Wildlife Refuge, drawing sightseers with its outdoor beauty and huge flocks of waterfowl, which pause here on their seasonal migrations.

Farther north, sportsmen enjoy Charity Lake and the 1,476-acre Brickyard Hill Wildlife area, near historic Rock Port. All of northwest Missouri, in fact, offers opportunities for hunting, fishing, hiking and other outdoor fun. Woodlands and plains hold abundant game, complementing the fishing to be enjoyed in lakes, farm ponds and area rivers.

Other travel surprises in the northern half of the region include a barn and a church. The barn is at Tarkio — a three-story, octagonal mule barn built in the 1880s. Today, the red-brick building is the Mule Barn Theatre, offering professional summer stock productions (mid-June to mid-August; $6.50-$8.50), plus student theatre during Tarkio College's school year.

The church is at Conception Abbey, a Benedictine monastery near the little town of Conception. Its colorful Bueronese paintings are among the best examples of this art form in North America. The Abbey's library also features religious manuscripts dating to the ninth century.

In the southern half of the region, you'll drive through open farmland to towns where famous Missourians are remembered. At Plattsburg, you'll see a statue of David Rice Atchison — Missouri's "president for a day." Some historians say Atchison, as president pro-tem of the U.S. Senate, was technically our nation's president for one day in 1849 prior to Zachary Taylor's inauguration.

Other Missourians honored here include soldier/statesman James Shields, remembered in Carrollton, and department store founder J.C. Penney, honored with a museum (year-round; free) in Hamilton.

Reminders of another era are much in evidence in Excelsior Springs, once a world-famed health spa. The re-birth of the classic Elms Hotel, with a tradition dating to 1888, is helping the historic town return to its former prominence. You still can sample the famous mineral waters at Excelsior Springs' Hall of Waters, served at what is said to be the world's longest bar.

Nearby, the Watkins Mill State Historic Site offers a look at a different aspect of the past. You can walk through an 1860s woolen mill, complete with machinery, at this historic site which also offers camping and lake recreation.

Other state facilities in the Pony Express Region include the camping, trails and fishing at Wallace State Park, near Cameron; Lewis and Clark State Park, near Rushville, with campgrounds and boating; and 674-acre Crowder State Park, near Trenton, also with camping, trails and water fun.

Not far from Crowder State Park, the Breckenridge-Gallatin area is well worth a travel stop. Joseph Smith, who led his Mormon followers into Missouri in the early 1800s, settled here and identified the land of Adam-ondi-Ahman. He believed the area had been visited by Adam after his expulsion from the Garden of Eden. Today, Amish farms around Jamesport lend a 19th century air to the region.

From the frontier heritage of St. Joseph to the surrounding scenery and outdoor variety, the Pony Express Region is a Missouri vacationland of surprises ... and fun.

Worlds of Fun

The Kansas City Area, centering on Missouri's western metropolis, is ideal for vacationers who don't like to spend a lot of time traveling from one attraction to the next. In this compact area, travelers enjoy history, urban fun and scenery.

For many first-time visitors, Kansas City's biggest surprise is its beauty. Rolling hills, tree-lined boulevards, parks and fountains combine to make it one of America's most attractive cities.

Swope Park, with 1,769 acres, highlights the city's "green space." Since 1896, visitors have enjoyed the park, which now includes a fine zoo (year-round; $1.50), golf courses, tennis, trails, biking, swimming and more. For 33 years, the park's outdoor Starlight Theatre has been entertaining visitors (June through mid-September) and now features a blend of famous entertainers and Broadway musicals (about 60 performances a season).

For many travelers, a big city means shopping, dining and nightlife ... and the Kansas City Area fills the bill. Crown Center is a good starting point, with its blend of luxury hotels, shops and restaurants in a modern "city within a city."

Elsewhere, the fountains, artwork and Spanish-styled architecture of the Country Club Plaza draw travelers to America's first suburban shopping center. The elegant Plaza, built in the 1920s, offers 14 square blocks of nightspots, restaurants and varied shops. Equally varied are the offerings of old Westport Square, housed in restored, historic buildings.

From the traditional shopping areas downtown to suburban malls, the diversity of shopping, cuisine and nightlife provides a good reason to visit Kansas City.

Another good reason is the area's colorful past. Collections of 19th century buildings have been turned into typical "villages" of their era at Heritage Village in Hodge Park and at Missouri Town 1855 in Jackson County's Fleming Park (which also includes 1,000-acre Lake Jacomo).

Other reminders of the city's frontier heritage include statues of the Indian Scout and the Pioneer Mother in Penn Valley Park. Loose Park, a former Civil War battlefield, now is best known for its beautiful rose garden. And at Trail Town, home of Benjamin Stables, visitors can see a re-created Western town.

KANSAS CITY AREA

Public buildings, such as the old Union Station, also are part of the city's heritage, along with historic homes including that of artist Thomas Hart Benton and the 1858 Wornall House. At one of Kansas City's best-known travel landmarks, the 216-foot Liberty Memorial, you can ride to the top (Tues.-Sun.; $50) or its free museum of World War I memorabilia.

History and art are waiting at other noteworthy museums. Among them is the famed Nelson Gallery (Tues.-Sat.; $1.50; free on Sunday) with wide-ranging collections of art and artifacts and the Museum of History and Science (Tues.-Sun.; free), housed in an elegant mansion.

If action is your goal in a big-city vacation, head for Worlds of Fun — 158 acres packed with more than 110 rides, shows and attractions (summer, daily; spring/fall, weekends; $12.50; price may increase in '83). At nearby Oceans of Fun, the world's largest aquatic fun park offers a wave pool, water slides, sandy beaches, a ski show and more (Memorial Day-Labor Day; $10.50; price may increase in '83).

There's pro sports action at the twin-stadium Truman Sports Complex, home of the baseball Royals and football Chiefs ... or at Kemper Arena, with the basketball Kings or soccer Comets.

More information on Kansas City fun is just a phone call away, at the Convention and Visitors Bureau's headquarters in City Center Square. Call during the work-week at (816) 221-5242 or call the Visitor Information Phone — (816) 474-9600 — for a daily events message.

Just when you think you've seen Kansas City, you find the Lyric Opera ... excursions on the Missouri River (May-October; day & evening; $4.95) ... dinner theatres such as Tiffany's Attic and Waldo Astoria ... the Missouri Repertory Theatre ... and there's always more.

Just east, in Independence, the Harry S. Truman Library and Museum has become one of the area's most popular attractions (daily; $75). Exhibits relating to Mr. Truman's career and World War II help draw travelers, along with a colorful Benton mural. At the county courthouse on historic Independence Square, Mr. Truman's restored office now includes a multimedia show on his life.

This frontier city, where pioneers set out along the Santa Fe, California and Oregon trails, became an important stop on the Mormons' westward movement, also. There are free exhibits at the Mormon Visitors Center here ... and at the nearby world headquarters of a separate entity, the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. (South, at Unity Village, tour the carefully-tended woodlands at the world headquarters of the Unity School of Christianity.)

There's more to see in Independence, including the nostalgic exhibits in the preserved 1859 Jail, Marshall's Home and Museum (year-round; $1). For more details, contact the Independence Division of Tourism at (816) 836-8300.

North from Independence is Liberty, where you can visit the Jesse James Bank Museum (Fri.-Wed.; $.85) in the first bank Jesse robbed. His birthplace at nearby Kearney (daily; $1) and gravesite also are preserved. In Liberty, another reminder of the past is the old jail (year-round; free) where Mormon prophet Joseph Smith was held in 1838-39.

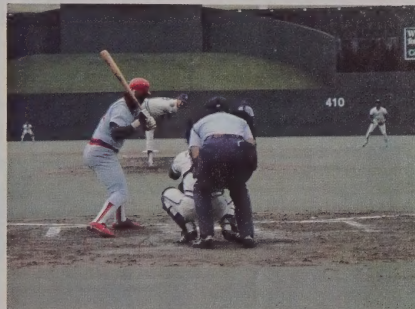

There's more history east at reconstructed Fort Osage. Overlooking the Missouri River, the impressive fort stands where William Clark built America's first outpost in the Louisiana Territory.

North of Kansas City, there's swimming, fishing, skiing and lots more water fun at the new Smithville Lake. And there are one-of-a-kind attractions at historic Weston, with more than 100 buildings predating the Civil War. For example, you can tour the McCormick Distillery, America's smallest and oldest distillery (spring through fall, daily; free) or see the largest tobacco market west of the Mississippi.

South, you'll find open country, parks and natural areas surprisingly close to the city, along with historic towns such as Belton and Harrisonville. This blend of urban excitement and scenic countryside typifies the Kansas City Area — a vacationland with something for every taste.

Water fun is the key to the Lake of the Ozarks Region. Its heart is the Lake of the Ozarks — 650 billion gallons of water and 1,375 miles of shoreline, luring travelers to a variety of vacation activities.

For fast-paced fun, choose any of the communities that ring the huge lake. You'll find luxury resorts that draw visitors year-round ... or family motels and rustic cabins for a simpler (and more economical) atmosphere.

All the towns on or near the lake — Camdenton, Sunrise Beach, Eldon, Lebanon, Osage Beach and many others — offer plenty to see and do. Away from the water, there's shopping, tennis, golf courses and restaurants for summer fun. Depending on where you start, you can tour Bagnell Dam (free) or any of several colorful caves ($3.50-$4). Take in a water ski show ($2.75-$5.50) or enjoy the "frontier" at Fort of the Osage theme park ($6.50). Then end your day with down-home music fun at any of the area's country music shows ($3-$6.50).

Details on the lake area and nearby communities are available from any of the regional promotion groups listed at the back of this booklet.

For all its man-made fun, the lake is a special vacation spot primarily because of its water and scenic beauty. Along its far-flung arms, the Lake of the Ozarks waits with open water for skiing, fishing and swimming ... with isolated coves for privacy ... with Ozarks forests and bluffs to complement the sparkling waters.

Missouri's largest state park — 16,762-acre Lake of the Ozarks State Park near Osage Beach — offers two swimming beaches, boat launching areas, horseback riding (summer; $5 per hour) and camping. (Campgrounds in all state parks are open year-round; $4-$7.) Tours of Ozark Caverns in the park (spring/fall, Sat.-Wed.; summer, daily; $2) offer a cool break from above-the-ground fun.

Close by, near Camdenton, is Ha Ha Tonka State Park, with trails to hike, a spring, a natural bridge and the ruins of a 60-room mansion, destroyed by fire.

CONVENTION AND VISITORS BUREAU OF GREATER KANSAS CITY

Pilots have changed course so passengers could enjoy the holiday lights at Country Club Plaza.

Country Club Plaza. Moorish architecture reminiscent of Spain, fountains dating back to 1680, sculptures, and tiles share the spotlight with nearly 200 stores in Country Club Plaza. You'll find everything from Saks Fifth Avenue and Gucci to Banana Republic in the nation's first shopping center, plus a smorgasbord of restaurants. Even the McDonald's boasts a bronze sculpture.

Take the trolley to another trendy place to shop and dine, Westport. Daniel Boone's grandson once ran an outfitting post in this original section of town.

Crown Center. You could spend a long weekend in Kansas City and never leave Hallmark's Crown Center, where two great hotels link up with a tri-level shopping and dining emporium. Tour the Hallmark Visitors Center, watch theater productions, and enjoy complimentary outdoor Friday Night Concerts in summer and ice skating in winter. Hallmark also provides—free—one of

KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

A quietly cosmopolitan midwestern mecca

Kansas City overflows with so many pleasures that one state isn't big enough to contain this sophisticated midwestern metropolis. The home of Hallmark and the bastion of barbecue sprawls over the line dividing Missouri from Kansas.

Water splashes and shoots up everywhere in the City of Fountains, which boasts more fountains than any place but Rome and more boulevards than Paris. Royals' and Chiefs' fans gravitate to the majors' only side-by-side stadiums, while miniature golfers head for Cool Crest's challenges. At Swope Park you can golf, go to the zoo, and watch a theater production under the stars. Jazz clubs abound in Kansas City.

Where's the beef? Kansas City gave its name to a special cut of steak. At the Golden Ox, a generous K.C. strip with all the trimmings costs $13.50. Barbecue is as hotly debated here as politics is elsewhere. Each establishment has its own aficionados, but Arthur Bryant's is legendary. Devotees have sent private jets to pick up an order of sandwiches stacked high with slowly cooked ham or beef plus mounds of French fries. Lamar's doughnuts are another delicious Kansas City tradition.

Museums, big and small. The Nelson-Atkins Museum's incredible display of priceless art alone justifies a trip to Kansas City. You can view 169 images of Buddha in its world-renowned oriental collection. A stroll through the massive marble exhibit halls reveals masterpieces by Renoir, Rembrandt, El Greco, Monet, and native son Thomas Hart Benton. Time your visit to enjoy lunch in the Rozzelle Court Restaurant.

The Toy and Miniature Museum displays dollhouses, trains, and an amazing assortment of intricately crafted miniatures.

the best deals in the nation for kids. At the Kaleidoscope, youngsters 5 through 12 kick their imaginations into high gear in the Discovery Room, then let their creativity soar in the Art Studio, loaded with supplies from the past Hallmark season.

Independence. Suburban Independence is worth a day's visit. If your time is limited, head straight for the Harry S. Truman Library and Museum, where a recording by the former president points out the treasures in his reproduced Oval Office. Other attractions include the Truman House, the 1859 Marshal's House and Jail Museum, the new National Frontier Trails Center, and Clinton's for an inexpensive lunch or soda.

Special for kids. Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun: Roller coasters, rides, shows, and water slides in twin theme parks.

Kansas City Museum at Town Pavilion: Changing shows, all with interactive activities and such child pleasers as tunnels and bridges to get from one exhibit to another.

Creature comforts. The Embassy Suites: close to the Plaza, separate bed and living rooms, kitchenette, complimentary breakfast, $89–$99. The Hyatt Regency Crown Center and the Westin Crown Center: weekend rates from $79 and $62; excellent packages. For an elegant evening out: Hyatt Regency's The Peppercorn Duck Club with an Ultra Chocollata dessert bar, or the Bristol Bar and Grill in Country Club Plaza. Dining with a view: Benton's Steak and Chop House in the Westin.

If you don't have 12 inches of attic insulation, you don't have enough.

According to the Department of Energy, most attics should be insulated to an R-value of 38. That's 12 inches of Owens-Corning Pink® Fiberglas® blanket insulation. Unfortunately, too many homes don't have enough. They waste heat in the winter; air conditioning in the summer. And money year round.

What about your house? To find out if you're properly insulated, take a ruler up to the attic. If you don't have 12 inches of Pink Fiberglas blanket insulation, visit your Owens-Corning retailer and get some more. It's easy to install. And cheaper than years of high fuel bills.

To find out more about insulation recommendations in your area, call 1-800-GET-PINK (Ext. 70) or send in this coupon for a free 32-page color booklet. After all, who wants to live in a house that doesn't measure up?

Mail to: Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp., Attn. C.I.Y. Meeks, P.O. Box 44179, Jacksonville, FL 32231-4179. Please send me a free copy of "A Homeowner's Guide to Insulation." I am interested in this for: ☐ building a home, ☐ remodeling, ☐ adding insulation.

PRESBYTERIAN

The Presbyterian Church in Kingston was organized May 15, 1884 and the same year bought the Congregational church building, a frame for $750. There were seventeen charter members. This church stood in what now is our park at the southwest corner, Harold Shaffer's residence was the parsonage. It was sold to Mr. Puckett in the year 1928 who built his home in the north part of town of the material. Reverend W. E. Barksdale was the last pastor. He held this pastorate twenty-two years.

METHODIST (COLORED)

This church was built in the year of 1892 in the northeast part of town. Was closed in 1932. A high windstorm in April this year blew it down. The last pastor was Reverend Johnson.

PREFATORY

In presenting this book, we have endeavored to gather such facts and information as deemed of sufficient general importance to all who are interested in our town of Kingston.

If any names or pictures are omitted or any mistakes appear, it is because of an error or that we have been misinformed.

The purpose of this book is to give its readers a view of our town and its activities as they are in the summer of 1950.

Since churches are the backbone of any nation, we trust they are to our town of Kingston. So we begin this book with the churches.

OUR TOWN, 1950

Kingston, the county seat of Caldwell county, was located and established by commissioners appointed by the State Legislature and is located one mile south two and one-half miles west of the exact, geographical center of the county.

In the spring of 1843 the town was surveyed off into lots and blocks and named in honor of Judge Austin A. King of Richmond, Missouri, who was then acting circuit Judge.

Kingston is beautifully situated on an elevated ridge, sloping north and south, midway between Shoal and Log Creeks each being a distance of one-half mile from main street, the center of town, running east and west.

The present population of Kingston is about 380 inhabitants, has a stately courthouse, occupying the center block of the town, surrounded by a beautiful grove of pine and other varieties of shade trees, under which children of many generations have played.

Caldwell County, in which Kingston is located lies in the northwestern portion of Missouri about 140 miles west of Hannibal, 55 miles southeast of St. Joseph and 60 miles northeast of Kansas City.

The county is in the shape of a rectangle 24 miles long from east to west, and 18 miles wide. It is divided into 12 equal townships, has an area of 432 square miles, 276, 480 acres and one of the most attractive and fertile localities in the great Mississippi basin. It is situated in the very center of the United States, in the finest agricultural district and with its natural resources makes it the most desirable part of the State.

Caldwell County is composed of one-third timber land and two-thirds prairie land, along the numerous streams the land assumes a more rugged outline but becomes slightly rolling and smooth as it recedes from the streams and stretches away in the gentle and bold swells of the prairies.

Nature's hand has so admirable mingled prairie with forest and forest with prairie, that the landscape charms the soul of the artist as well as it satisfies the mind of practical utility.

There are no barren hills, nor tracts of unproductive soil, no extended stony wastes and no wide undrained dead levels.

Fresh water springs are abundant, there is hardly a section of land but what has one or more of these springs, and wells are usually dug from 12 to 50 feet in depth.

The fertile prairie farms with their broad corn-fields and waving meadows, their fields of wheat and rolling blue grass pastures, gives the county a rural magnificence rarely surpassed.

Yet in all this splendor of nature, our county goes down in Missouri's history as having blood stains on her soil. A group of people called Mormons who believed and practiced a peculiar religion came to Caldwell County in great numbers in the year of 1836. At the close of the year 1835 the Governor of Missouri had set aside Caldwell County as a home for this religious sect, trouble arose which led to bloodshed so an order was issued expelling the Mormons from the county and also state. This was in December, 1838, they were given until May the 10th to vacate. The population of Caldwell County was at that time 7,000, after the Mormons left only 1,000 people remained. Far West was the largest city North of the Missouri river and the largest ever in Caldwell County. Had these Mormons been allowed to remain, what Salt Lake City is today Far West might have been, with their ambition and our natural resources combined would far excelled that desert land that blossomed as a garden under their hands.

We also had bloodshed at the time of the Civil War of a few isolated cases, by a band of raiders, who had been Confederate men but who were now only a group of guerillas going from place to place plundering and killing.

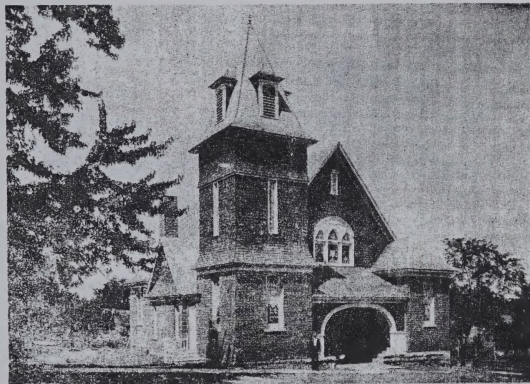

Government survey of the lower tier of townships in Caldwell was made in the year of 1818, the remaining townships were surveyed in 1823. The first entry of land was made by a man named Jeremiah McDonald on April 11, 1832.

The first settler was Jesse Mann who built a rude log hut a quarter of mile northeast of where our present Courthouse now stands.

The first town was called Salem, located on Log Creek, one mile and half southeast of where Kingston is now, this town started with blacksmith shop, general store and a horse grinding mill and a few log houses, this was in 1833. Ten years later when Kingston was surveyed the few business places of Salem moved into Kingston and Salem went into decay.

Church History

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Southern Methodist people, in 1858 started building a church on the east side of town in dense timber. The building was not completed until after the close of the Civil War. A group of Christian people who had been meeting in homes and courthouse purchased the church from the Southern Methodists in 1865, at the cost of $1,200. There were forty-nine members and the first pastor was Joseph T. Rice. Note the picture of this church on first page, how remarkably well preserved for a frame building standing almost 100 years and has been in use by the Christians continuously. Mrs. Zada Nelson is pastor.

FEDERATED CHURCH

This church was built in the early '90's a block south of the square, now on highway 13. It is the third church to be built on the same location as two previously burned. In 1905 a room was added on the south, and in 1946 a kitchen was built on the east. Reverend Clifford Fisher is the pastor.

SOUTHERN METHODIST

A lovely brick building was erected on the northwest corner of the square in the year of 1905 by the Southern Methodist people. This was a beautiful building on a desirable location. It closed in 1930 and four years later was sold to Mr. Earl Cope, who tore it down and built a residence two blocks west. The last pastor was Reverend Knight.

LATTER DAY SAINTS

This church stands in the north part of town, was erected in the year 1893 and was closed in 1947. The last pastor was Reverend Earl Cravens.

Marriages

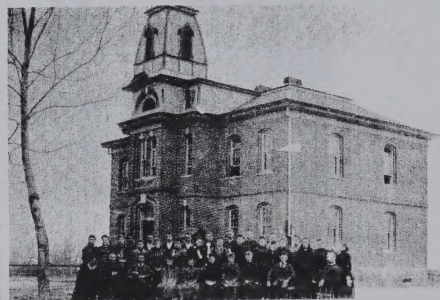

Wedding scene of Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Poorman, June the 15th, 1949, in the Christian Church. The attendants were nieces of the bride and a nephew. Mrs. Poorman was Miss Ruth Nelson before her marriage. This was the last wedding in the Christian Church.

The last wedding in the Federated Church was that of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Griffin, who before her marriage, on December 18, 1949, was Miss Ruth Otto.

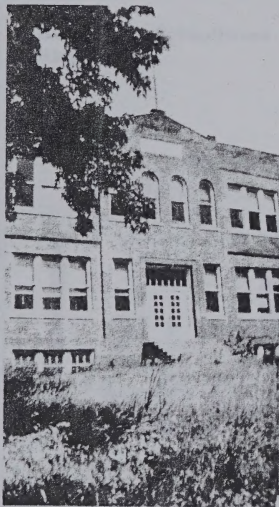

SCHOOLS

This Building Was Built In 1873

South side view of our modern school building, is up-to-date in many ways, although its history goes back many years for this is the same building as shown on opposite page. It was enlarged in the year 1922.

West or front view of schoolhouse, this building has been in continuous use since built in 1873. Men and women have gone from this school of learning into all walks of life. Kingston is justly proud of her great men going forth to serve.

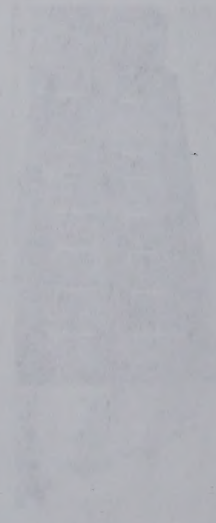

The first school in the vicinity of Kingston was in an abandoned cabin on Long Creek, taught by a young Mormon lady, Miss Mary Ann Duty. This was in the year of 1838, a summer term.

The first schoolhouse was built in Kingston early in its history made of logs and as there were no glass for windows a log was left out on two sides about four feet up and greased paper was put over this opening. This was the only way they had of lighting a building. After this building was used a number of years it was replaced by a frame building the framework was hewed out by hand of oak, and this building still stands. It has been remodeled and made into a dwelling, owned by Mrs. Claude Clevenger. It stands where it has always stood, two blocks west of the present schoolhouse. Several of our oldest citizens remember going to school in this building. The above is a picture of the way it looks today. It was in use until the present schoolhouse was built in the year of 1873.

CALDWELL COUNTY COURTHOUSE

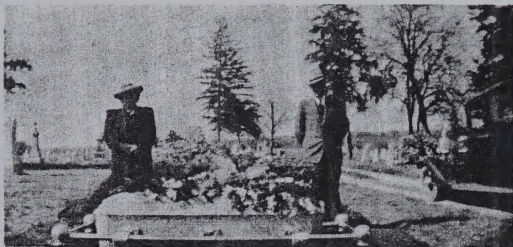

This building was built in 1898, two years after the one on the opposite page burned. It is a large and commodious brick building, trimmed with Bedford stone with three stories and a basement. It is steam heated and a water system piped from a deep well. The dimensions are 70 feet by 100 feet. Was built at the cost of about $30,000. This is the fourth courthouse to be built in Caldwell County, the first one was at Far West and was used until 1843. County officials and records were moved to Kingston, as it was approved being more centrally located.

This courthouse was built in 1862, burned in 1896, the first courthouse was built in 1843 and burned in 1860.

During the Civil War on the 19th of July, 1864, a mail coach was robbed, just south of Knoxville, that operated between Lexington and Hamilton. Mail was destroyed and the horses taken, this caused Major S. P. Cox of Davies County to dispatch a message that he was moving south with the militia of four hundred soldiers, requesting all available men to meet him near Bonzaza, as that was then the main road between Hamilton and Lexington. Lieutenant J. H. Snyder immediately started with all the men he could arm, leaving Kingston entirely defenseless. About 4:00 o'clock the next afternoon July the 20th, these raiders rode leisurely into Kingston. John Thraikill and Chas. F. Taylor were Confederate men or had been in that service, but now had organized a company of three hundred men in Clay County and were determined to raid through northern Missouri. While they claimed to be Confederate troops they were in reality guerillas, going from place to place plundering and killing men belonging to the Militia. They halted in front of this courthouse. Pickets were put out on all roads. Two men mounted the cupola of the courthouse to take down the flag of stars and stripes, when a young lady, Miss Olivia George ordered them not to touch the flag but they paid no attention to her except to compliment her on her spunk and tore it down and bore it away. All Union flags were torn from business places. Military papers were burned, vaults in the offices of circuits and county clerk as well as the sheriff were broken open, about $8,000 in school money was taken also a general raiding of all food and liquor stores. Most of the few people left in Kingston had fled to a thicket of hazel brush just north of the courthouse. Before night they moved westward but were overtaken about eight miles west (after they had plundered Mirabile) by the militia, and here a battle ensued.

Mr. and Mrs. Cramer Clark standing by an open grave, just ready to lower the casket at the close of a burial in Kingston's cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Clark are both Funeral Directors, own and operate two funeral homes, one in Kingston and the other in Cowgill. Both homes are fully equipped with a preparatory room, casket room, and a beautiful chapel. These good people are very busy, if it's death or sickness, among our rich or poor far or near they answer the call, they keep two ambulances and one funeral coach. The Clarks have lived in Kingston twenty-one years operating their business themselves, at times they have a funeral to direct at the same hour in different towns.

Two Kingston sisters, Mrs. Ruby Farr and Miss Metta Cruikshank, who have lived here for twenty-five years bring comfort to the bereaved with their talented voices, not only here but the county over wherever their service is needed whether it be a funeral or a church service or a wedding these sisters serve in a beautiful way, their community.

The Kingston cemetery is an old one. No exact date can be given of the first grave, no record can be found earlier than 1865. We suppose the courthouse being destroyed by fire, in 1860 burned the deeds. There is a tombstone marked 1858 so we know they were using this cemetery before that. In 1865 the cemetery consisted of only one acre of land and this was on the west slope in the center of our present graveyard, a group of men were appointed by the town to enlarge the already too full burial grounds, so another acre was added, this extended east. The strip of ground through the center where there are not many tombstones is the old part and is full of bodies even if not marked. From this time on there were acres added as needed until the present plot is twelve acres. The city of our dead is many times larger than our living.

These two old brick houses stands just one and two blocks west of the courthouse square. These structures were built before the Civil War. Mrs. Lewellen and Mrs. Love live here.

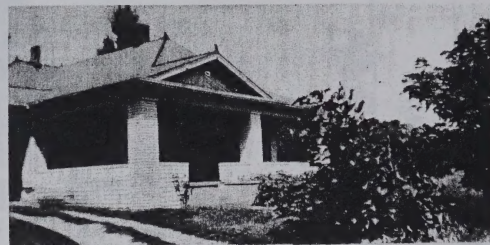

Mrs. Viola Yoakum

Kingston is the smallest county seat town in northwest Missouri, yet the town has certain charm and appeal that has attracted many people. Our homes are picturesque, old, intermingled with the new. There are 115 houses and of these 54 have only two or less occupancy.

Kingston Cemetery Board wishes to pass on a financial report to you who are interested in the Cemetery by visitation, donations, and keeping the lots in better condition.

The Board wish to express their appreciation to the ones that have donated money to the General Fund and Endowment Fund this past year. There is a misunderstanding of what the different accounts are used for:

General Fund - Checking Account - Balance as of May 7, 1986 - $ 145.12

General Fund - Savings Passbook - Balance as of May 7, 1986 - $4,467.16

These two funds are used for maintaining the cemetery, such as mowing, repairs of stone, gravel, etc. Your donation that you give each year at the gate is placed in General Funds and not the Endowment Fund. The only time the money is placed in the Endowment Fund is when the individual giving the money specify that it be placed in that Fund. Some people like to give to the Endowment Fund because they know when they are gone the interest from their money go to help toward maintaining the cemetery each year. It take both the donations each year and the interest from the Endowment fund to maintain the Cemetery.

Endowment Fund in Savings Passbook and Certificates of Deposit balance as of May 7, 1986 in two accounts is $19,321.26.

The cost of mowing each time this year will be $325.00 and it will be mowed as often as needed, which is around nine (9) times. The Gary McNeely family from Jameson, Mo. is doing the mowing this year.

Thanks to the Polo V A W for taking the responsibility of putting out the flags. Thanks to Marily Williams for cataloging the Kingston Cemetery and now have the books for sale. The cost of the book is 6.50.

If any one has any information or would like to offer a suggestion and help, feel free to do so, the more respect we have for each other's interest the better we will keep the Cemetery looking.

We wish to thank everyone for their help in maintaining the Cemetery, your coopertaion and donations are very much appreciated.

second addition was made to the cemetery and other additions were made in the following years: July 1903, a section known as the Highland Cemetery and in Nov. 1923, the Rogers Addition.

Some of the earliest markers in the cemetery are:

Artie McBride,	d. 1839
Amos Sumner,	d. 1843
John Whitmer,	d. 1846
Phoebe Heziah Dodge,	d. 1847 ✓

Some of these may have been erected, just, as a memorial.

Ten or twelve stones show death dates in the 1850's and many graves are unmarked. Some stones appear to have been broken off and, I assume, are now buried under the grass or destroyed.

Many of the inscriptions are becoming increasingly difficult to read so this book should serve as an acceptable means of preserving these old inscriptions. If you have loved ones buried here or know of someone buried here who is not listed in this book, I would certainly like to obtain the information so that it can be added to this record.

To insure that the cemetery be kept in good order, donations are collected each year. An endowment fund has been established where only the interest can be used for the upkeep of the cemetery. This fund was started from gifts designated as such and from a percentage of the sale of lots through the years.

The present board of directors for the Kingston Cemetery are:

Bruce Arms, President
Lorene Carroll, Secy. & Treas.
Fred Gregory
James Assel
Donald Gene Vanderpool
Larry Henry

Caretakers for the year 1986 are: The Gary MacNeely Family, Jamison, Missouri.

KINGSTON CEMETERY ASSOICATION

May 7, 1986

Kingston Cemetery Board wishes to pass on a financial report to you who are interested in the Cemetery by visitation, donations, and keeping the lots in better condition.

The Board wish to express their appreciation to the ones that have donated money to the General Fund and Endowment Fund this past year. There is a misunderstanding of what the different accounts are used for:

General Fund - Checking Account - Balance as of May 7, 1986 - $ 145.12

General Fund - Savings Passbook - Balance as of May 7, 1986 - $4,467.16

These two funds are used for maintaining the cemetery, such as mowing, repairs of stone, gravel, etc. Your donation that you give each year at the gate is placed in General Funds and not the Endowment Fund. The only time the money is placed in the Endowment Fund is when the individual giving the money specify that it be placed in that Fund. Some people like to give to the Endowment Fund because they know when they are gone the interest from their money go to help toward maintaining the cemetery each year. It take both the donations each year and the interest from the Endowment fund to maintain the Cemetery.

Endowment Fund in Savings Passbook and Certificates of Deposit balance as of May 7, 1986 in two accounts is $19,321.26.

The cost of mowing each time this year will be $325.00 and it will be mowed as often as needed, which is around nine (9) times. The Gary McNeely family from Jameson, Mo. is doing the mowing this year.

Thanks to the Polo V A W for taking the responsibility of putting out the flags. Thanks to Marily Williams for cataloging the Kingston Cemetery and now have the books for Sale. The cost of the book is 6.50.

If any one has any information or would like to offer a suggestion and help, feel free to do so, the more respect we have for each other's interest the better we will keep the Cemetery looking.

We wish to thank everyone for their help in maintaining the Cemetery, your coopertaion and donations are very much appreciated.

Thank you,

Your Cemetery Board

H. Bruce Arms, President

KINGSTON CEMETERY

Located:

1 bk. E. & 3 bks. N. of the Court House
Sec. 22 Twp. 56 Range 28

Prepared for Publication by:

Marilyn Williams

second addition was made to the cemetery and other additions were made in the following years: July 1903, a section known as the Highland Cemetery and in Nov. 1923, the Rogers Addition.

Some of the earliest markers in the cemetery are:

Artie McBride,	d. 1839
Amos Sumner,	d. 1843
John Whitmer,	d. 1846
Phoebe Heziah Dodge,	d. 1847

Some of these may have been erected, just, as a memorial.

Ten or twelve stones show death dates in the 1850's and many graves are unmarked. Some stones appear to have been broken off and, I assume, are now buried under the grass or destroyed.

Many of the inscriptions are becoming increasingly difficult to read so this book should serve as an acceptable means of preserving these old inscriptions. If you have loved ones buried here or know of someone buried here who is not listed in this book, I would certainly like to obtain the information so that it can be added to this record.

To insure that the cemetery be kept in good order, donations are collected each year. An endowment fund has been established where only the interest can be used for the upkeep of the cemetery. This fund was started from gifts designated as such and from a percentage of the sale of lots through the years.

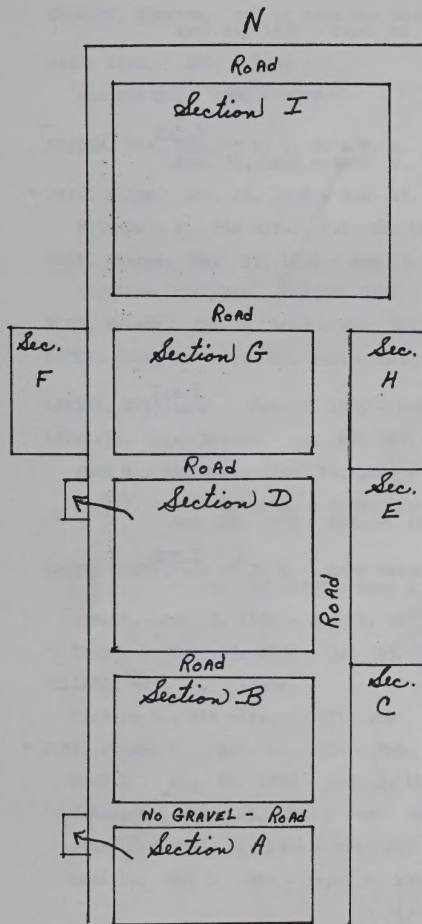

The present board of directors for the Kingston Cemetery are:

Bruce Arms, President
Lorene Carroll, Secy. & Treas.
Fred Gregory
James Assel
Donald Gene Vanderpool
Larry Henry

Caretakers for the year 1986 are: The Gary MacNeely Family, Jamison, Missouri.

KINGSTON CEMETERY MAP

This is a rough sketch I've drawn of the cemetery to help you locate certain graves. It is not a true scale of the cemetery.

The first row begins in the northwest corner of each designated section and follows a left to right pattern.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial data.

2. The second part outlines the procedures for handling discrepancies. It states that any difference between the recorded amounts and the actual amounts must be investigated immediately to identify the source of the error.

3. The third part describes the process for reconciling accounts. It requires that each account be reconciled at the end of each month to ensure that the balance matches the bank statement.

4. The fourth part discusses the importance of regular audits. It states that an independent audit should be conducted annually to verify the accuracy of the financial statements.

5. The fifth part outlines the responsibilities of the accounting department. It states that the department is responsible for ensuring that all transactions are recorded accurately and that the financial statements are prepared in a timely manner.

6. The sixth part discusses the importance of maintaining proper documentation. It states that all supporting documents, such as invoices and receipts, should be kept for a minimum of five years.

7. The seventh part outlines the process for handling changes to the accounting system. It states that any proposed changes must be approved by the management team before being implemented.

8. The eighth part discusses the importance of staying up-to-date with changes in accounting standards. It states that the accounting department should regularly review the latest standards and update the system accordingly.

9. The ninth part outlines the process for handling errors. It states that any error discovered should be corrected immediately and the responsible party should be held accountable.

10. The tenth part discusses the importance of maintaining a clear and concise accounting system. It states that the system should be designed to be easy to use and understand, with clear instructions and labels for all components.

11. The eleventh part outlines the process for handling requests for information. It states that all requests for information should be handled in a timely and professional manner, with the necessary information provided to the requester.

12. The twelfth part discusses the importance of maintaining a secure accounting system. It states that all data should be stored securely and access should be restricted to authorized personnel only.

13. The thirteenth part outlines the process for handling changes to the accounting system. It states that any proposed changes must be approved by the management team before being implemented.

14. The fourteenth part discusses the importance of staying up-to-date with changes in accounting standards. It states that the accounting department should regularly review the latest standards and update the system accordingly.

15. The fifteenth part outlines the process for handling errors. It states that any error discovered should be corrected immediately and the responsible party should be held accountable.

16. The sixteenth part discusses the importance of maintaining a clear and concise accounting system. It states that the system should be designed to be easy to use and understand, with clear instructions and labels for all components.

17. The seventeenth part outlines the process for handling requests for information. It states that all requests for information should be handled in a timely and professional manner, with the necessary information provided to the requester.

18. The eighteenth part discusses the importance of maintaining a secure accounting system. It states that all data should be stored securely and access should be restricted to authorized personnel only.

19. The nineteenth part outlines the process for handling changes to the accounting system. It states that any proposed changes must be approved by the management team before being implemented.

20. The twentieth part discusses the importance of staying up-to-date with changes in accounting standards. It states that the accounting department should regularly review the latest standards and update the system accordingly.

CALDWELL COUNTY

Except for a few probate records, all Caldwell County records were lost in an 1860 fire that destroyed the courthouse. The Illustrated Historical Atlas of Caldwell County, 1876, provides the earliest history.

After county organization in 1836, Far West, a community created by Mormons, served as Caldwell's county seat until 1842. A school was moved from the southwest part of town to the center of the square for the courthouse.

A shifting population favored a more central location and chose Kingston the second county seat. In Kingston a log building served as the first courthouse. The court may have authorized construction in 1843, or the courthouse may have been an existing building used by the early courts. This 1½-story structure stood on the south side of Main St. opposite the square. The History of Caldwell and Livingston Counties, 1886, described it as not very attractive.

Caldwell County built its second courthouse in either 1847 or 1854. The Atlas of 1876 says 1847; the History of 1886 mentions both dates and identifies Hawkins Green as the builder. Both sources describe it as a two-story, brick building, on the square facing south. The upper story remained unfinished; offices and courtroom were on the first floor. Fire consumed most county records when suspected arsonists set the courthouse ablaze April 19, 1860.

In 1860, for their third courthouse, the County Court awarded the contract to builders J. A. Crump and George A. Kice of Lexington and appropriated $20,000. The court specified the building be completed by September 1, 1861. This temple-type building resembles the Lafayette County courthouse of 1847 in Lexington and the 1856 Ray County courthouse in Richmond (Fig. 1). Contractors Crump and Kice were responsible for construction of all three. On November 28, 1896, fire once again consumed the Caldwell County courthouse. The Hamiltonian Farmer's Advocate described the building as a large, commodious, two-story, brick with "an old colonial portico in front . . . much admired for its antique and quaint architecture."

At this point Hamilton contended for the county seat, but the site at Kingston withstood the challenge.

The court proceeded with plans for the courthouse of 1898. The cost was not to exceed $26,000. Bonds for an indebtedness of $18,000 were passed on March 5, 1898. Several architects competed, among them William Schrage, architect of courthouses for Howard, Morgan and Ripley counties, whose plans were described as the most elaborate; Homer H. Carr, St. Joseph; and William Garver, who presented a corner tower design. The court selected the proposal of Kansas City architect L. Grant Middaugh. Court officials awarded the building contract to Stanberry Pressed Brick Co. for $24,827 in May 1898; the building was to be completed

December 1, 1898. J. W. Harper, presiding judge, acted as superintendent of construction.

There are two entries which face south and east on the 74-by-69-foot, pressed-brick building. Stairways on each side of the main south entrance lead to the second story. The Circuit Court room is in the northwest part of the second story.

Cornerstone ceremonies took place September 2, 1898; the crowd was estimated at 2,000. This courthouse continues in use today and is on the National Register of Historic Places.

dows were in the lower story, and one window and one door in each upper room. The courtroom was located in the lower floor with curved bar and judge's bench. The courthouse and lot sold for $275 to Judge Elias Parrot when a new building was anticipated.

The second courthouse in Gentry County was a temple-type building erected between 1853-55 by George H. Mosley, who sub-contracted some of the work. It was a brick building, 60 by 45 feet, two stories with a 12-foot-wide portico on the south. There were four rooms upstairs for a public hall and jury rooms. The courtroom originally was located in the lower story and measured 40 by 45 feet. During remodeling in 1875, the courtroom was moved to the second story (Fig. 1). Exterior stairs may have been added at that time. Total appropriations for the building came to about $6,000. The building was destroyed by windstorm on July 13, 1883.

The third and present courthouse, a three-story brick building, dates from 1884-85. Designed by Edmond J. Eckel, one of northwest Missouri's finest architects, it was built by Rufus K. Allen, St. Joseph, Missouri, who first contracted for the exterior and roofing of the 200-foot-square building for $22,000, and later completed the interior work. The cost was $29,100.

Cornerstone for the building was laid August 24, 1884; the building was accepted June 5, 1885 (Fig. 2). Other Missouri courthouses by Eckel's firm include Nodaway, 1881, Atchison, 1882 and DeKalb, 1885.

JOHN YOAKUM

By Jack Yoakum

John Yoakum was born January 22, 1875, in rural Caldwell County. He was a son of Ewing and Jane Yoakum. Ewing was born in Taswell, Tennessee in 1849. On coming to Missouri, he married Jane Thomas of Millville. He was owner at one time, of an early lively barn in Cowgill. They had eleven children.

John was a farmer. His bride was Mary Cheek, born June 23, 1878 in Raleigh, North Carolina. They were married in Richmond, Missouri, on September 3, 1899. Mary and John had five children, as follows:

Virgil, born October 29, 1901, died March 19, 1903. Buried in New Hope Cemetery.

Edith, born February 1, 1904, died November 30, 1969. Buried in Taylorville, Illinois Cemetery.

Blanch, born March 9, 1907

Fern, born October 19, 1914

Jack, born October 7, 1919

All the children were born in Caldwell County.

John lived a long and active life. He died in 1957 at the age of 82. Mary died June 15, 1972. Both are buried in the Cowgill Cemetery. None of their descendants live in Caldwell County today.

4. LOCATING YOUR ANCESTOR

- a. after 1910: usually available from family, state birth/death records*
- b. 1821-1920: census* (1830-), military*
- c. 1803-21: early county records* (only 5 in 1811, 15 in 1820), territorial records*, War of 1812*, land grants* and claims*
- d. 1735-1803: French and Spanish government records*, church records*, later land claims, family files in libraries*, publications*

5. RESEARCH PROCEDURE (finding ancestors' parents, tracking ancestors year-by-year)

- a. procedure: family/prevres-NLGL-AGLL-FHC/FHL-MO State Repos (MSA, MAG)-Hist Soc (SHSM/MHS)-Large MO Lib (SLPL/KCPL/MCPL)-NA/NAKCB-LR-CH (court house last)
- b. use of card/computer indexes: Subject-Locality-Author-Name-Title (to be done NLSAT), ask for other indexes & finding aids (inventories, lists, notebooks, tabulations, files)
- c. at FHC/FHL use large indexes: Intl General Index, Ancestral File, Surname Index, Locality Index
- d. connecting your ancestor, 1st step: use b, d, m, will, and estate records; b & d often not available, m incomplete, but will & estate good; if fails, go to step 2
- e. connecting your ancestor, 2nd step: use auxilliary records which sometimes name parents, Bible, biography, cemetery, census, church, county history, family, genealogical compilations and periodicals, land, manuscripts, military pension, mortuary, newspaper (marr, anniversary, obituary), published genealogies, tax
- f. tracking your ancestor year-by-year (the ideal): use all the above records

Fight at Gallatin Between Mormons and Non-Mormons

from Caldwell County in the spring and summer of 1838. These bitter outcasts spread exaggerated accounts of Mormon tyranny and aggressive plans.⁵⁴ Since Mormon society was so self-contained and secretive, dissenters were the only source of information to the non-Mormons, and they were, no doubt, readily believed.

Another factor compounding this non-Mormon insecurity was the new Mormon attitude of self-confidence and self-reliance. Buoyed by the peace and prosperity of recent months, the Mormons found themselves firmly in control of their own destiny for the first time. Moreover, they had accomplished all this with no help from anyone. Sidney Rigdon's Fourth of July speech exemplified this attitude of self-confidence and self-reliance. To an already insecure and suspicious non-Mormon population, however, Rigdon's speech signaled Mormon belligerence.

This non-Mormon suspicion, combined with a liberal dose of alcohol, precipitated the brawl at the Gallatin election on August 6. Over-reacting to this scuffle (which was far from unusual at frontier elections), the Mormons had little respect for the legal process since it had failed to previously support them. Instead, buoyed by the new aura of self-confidence and self-reliance, Joseph Smith led a band of 150 men north into Gallatin on August 8 and compelled Adam Black to sign a document guaranteeing protection

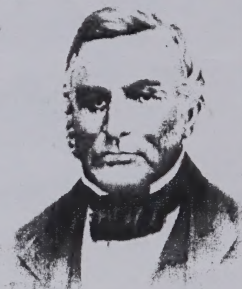

⁵⁴ See Letters from Oliver Cowdrey and David Whitmer in Smith, History of the Church, III, 17-19, and an affidavit by John N. Sapp in Document Containing the Correspondence, Orders, &c. in Relation to the Disturbances with the Mormons; and the Evidence. . . . (Fayette, Mo., 1841), 17. of Mormon civil rights in Daviess County. The Mormons thought they were merely protecting their own from "an overwhelming band of desperadoes."⁵⁵ The non-Mormons saw this as "steps of treason,"⁵⁶ and appealed to the rest of the state to aid them before "our country is ruined."⁵⁷ Sporadic raids by both Mormons and non-Mormons on each other's property followed. Governor Boggs responded to this violence by ordering out a portion of the state militia to keep the combatants apart. The situation seemed to improve,⁵⁸ but the undercurrent of fear and distrust was still present.

Then, on October 18, the Mormon leadership in Caldwell County blundered. Apparently in retaliation for non-Mormon raids into Caldwell County, an armed Mormon force rode into Gallatin and Millport and sacked and burned the villages.⁵⁹ To the citizens of Missouri, this act symbolized an armed insurrection. Rumors of Mormon atrocities spread throughout the state.⁶⁰ Combined with the Jacksonian proclivity to see conspiracies wherever a secretive minority group existed, the rumors convinced most Missourians that the Mormons were preparing to overthrow the government and were guilty of treason. Even General David Rice Atchison, one of the staunchest supporters of the Mormons throughout their settlement in Missouri, agreed that they had "set the laws of the country at defiance, and are in open rebellion."⁶¹

⁶⁰ Many of these rumors may be found in a series of letters to the editor of the St. Louis Missouri Argus, November 1, 2, 8, 1838.
